justification, asserts that one of the material conditions on which it had authorized the agreement had been entirely overlooked and omitted. In reply, it was stated by the American government that the third proposition never was submitted to them at all, as an absolute condition, so that had it been so submitted the arrangement could not have been made. That it was one which went to imply a want of ability on the part of this government to execute its own laws, and was such an one as no American ever could consent to. He was anxious that in this particular, this government should be justified to the world; for there was still some portion of it which had eluded the merciless jaws of Napoleon, and would judge upon the plain evidence of truth and reason. To them it was necessary, if we respected our character, as a nation, to make it appear in any event, that we had justice on our side. We assert that the insulting proposition of permitting the British navy to assist us in the execution of our laws, was not known to this government as an absolute condition at all. That it was one which from its nature, must be utterly inadmissible. But what do they declare? Why, that they had not made this proposition with their own accord; but that it had originally come from the American minister in London. If this state of the case was correct, then had this government nothing to complain of in relation to the agreement. The violation of good faith would be in the part of the U. States. If this proposition actually was made by the American minister, no charge could be laid on that account against the British government. There was nothing reprehensible, on her part, in taking all that we were willing to give. He wanted to know whether the fact were such as was represented by the British government. If it was no blame could attach to them for being willing to take all that we were willing to give. He would not have it thought he believed Mr. Canning's statement in this particular. But he placed it upon this footing, that he could neither believe nor disbelieve without evidence.

COMMUNICATION.

The Freeholders of Fairfax county, are respectfully informed, that the Election of a Senator for the district composed of the counties of Fairfax and Prince William, will be held at Fairfax Court-House, on Friday the 22d instant; and that a poll will be opened for Mr. John M'Crea of Prince William, by his own consent, whose character and conduct through life, well entitle him to the confidence and suffrages of his fellow-citizens in the district. Mr. M'Crea has been a uniform friend to that policy which marked the political life of the great Washington. His opponent is Colonel William Tyler, a disciple of the new School. It is worthy of remark that Col. Tyler has given proof, that he does not think it a violation of the laws of God or of his country, to be engaged as a principal in a duel.

A great Secretary.—Mr. Secretary SMITH has certainly "cut a figure" in the correspondence with the British Minister. A democratic magistrate at Washington having said the other day, that the Secretary of State was a feeble man, was told that the letters of that gentleman to the British minister and to our minister in London, were written with ability. Very true, says he, but who wrote them? If Mr. MADISON did not write those letters, it is certain that his Prime Minister has imitated his style with more felicity than the style of POPE or STERNE has ever been imitated by any one of the many hundreds who constitute the servile herd of their literary followers. Besides, there is a peculiar reason why the President should write them. He had, in the capacity of Secretary of State, become so completely master of the subject of our foreign relations, that he would naturally wish to extend the chain which he had manufactured with so much ingenuity, into the precincts of his own Presidency, especially as it would be less labor for him to do it in the first instance, than to direct a Secretary of moderate talents how to do it, and also to correct it when done. The Secretary, however, although not pre-eminent as a literary character, is allowed on all hands to be very ingenious in a certain sort of management. The great interest which his brother, the Baltimore General and Senator, is supposed to have in producing a war with England, has subjected the Premier to some strong suspicions. But let us hope that he can not only say, with Motley in the "Castle Spectre"—"Certainly my transcendent merit has procured me some enemies; and, in common with many other great men, my virtue at present labors under something of a cloud."—But can also say—"Produce your charges, let me justify my conduct, and I doubt not I shall retrieve my reputation from your hands as immaculate and pure as a new sheet of foolscap."

(Freeman's Journal.)

Extract of a letter from a respectable commercial house in Liverpool, dated 4th November, 1809, to a gentleman of Philadelphia.

"On the 27th ult. the privy council for trade came to the determination that neutral vessels with cargoes from the United States may land such cargoes, and change their national character at an intermediate port, and come forward to this country, where they will be received as if direct from the U. States, but cargoes having been deposited at such intermediate port cannot be re-shipped in any but the vessel bringing it, or by a British vessel."

Extract of a letter from New-Orleans, November 6.

"Some time ago a French national vessel came in here in distress, got permission to take in provisions and to refit. She sailed—met with a gale in the gulf, and came back again in distress. Last week, while she was laying under the guns of Fort Placamin, an American made his escape from her and claimed the protection of the fort. When they went down from here this man had taken his passage in her for the Balize, and was afterwards forcibly detained on board. He made the discovery that she was not in distress; that she had a large sum of specie on board and a quantity of indigo taken from a Spanish schooner. The officer ordered her to be detained, and sent an officer up with the information. As soon as the captain saw this officer depart, suspecting something, he manned his boat, and by rowing night and day got up to town before him. On Saturday he reported to the custom-house—made a very pretty story that he was taken by a Spanish vessel, who put the indigo and specie on board, and that afterwards retook her. A custom house officer was sent down, to see that nothing was landed. What is to be done with her I know not. His object certainly was to rob in the Gulf, and make this his place of deposit, and no doubt intended to smuggle the indigo.

We have had several arrivals of the distressed fugitives from St. Domingo, under the law of Congress in that case provided. The vessels have been libelled but expect to be released by government. But observe the evil likely to arise from shewing too much lenity. There is now a vessel in the river from Jamaica, with a number of slaves and some free people of color, all driven from St. Domingo. The secretary of state was down, saw some of the negroes on shore and heard them speak English.—On enquiring they told him they had never been in St. Domingo. A trade is no doubt carried on in this way; slaves are purchased and covered as the property of the unfortunate French."

A FABLE.

A rickety man applied to the Physician of the neighborhood to procure him relief.—First the Doctor introduced the emollient system, then the tonic; sometimes Emetics and sometimes Cathartics; but none of his remedies had a beneficial effect, and his patient being at last exhausted, very prudently he gave up all applications and left the unfortunate man to nature's exertions lest excess of remedy should aggravate the disease.

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, December 20.

[Taken for the Alexandria Gazette.]

Mr. Johnson from the committee of claims, reported on the petition of Edward Turner, unfavorable. Adopted by the House.

Mr. Love reported a bill for removing slaves from one part of the district of Columbia to another. Read twice and referred to the committee of the whole House on Monday.

The bill for the relief of William and Elias Rector was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Love presented a bill to amend the charter of Alexandria. Referred to a committee of the whole house on Tuesday.

Mr. Rhea called for the order of the day on the resolutions from the senate. The house went into committee of the whole on said resolutions, MR. BASSETT in the chair.

Mr. M-Key spoke at some length in favor of the resolutions.

Mr. Wheaton spoke against the resolutions.

Mr. Johnson spoke in favor of the resolutions. He argued much better than Mr. M-Key, but whether he disproved the arguments of Mr. Dana of yesterday is certainly a question with us, perhaps it will be with the world, when both speeches are before the public.

Mr. Emmott followed Mr. Johnson, and argued with great force against the adoption of the resolutions—before he had concluded appearing much exhausted, a motion was made for the committee to rise, reported progress and asked leave to sit again, which was carried. The house granted leave and then adjourned.

To be hired for the ensuing year,

Eight or ten valuable NEGROES, belonging to the Preston estate, consisting of men, women, and girls: among them a good cook, washer and ironer, and several good house-servants.

TO THE PUBLIC.

are affected with Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and Consumptions.

THERE is perhaps no medical observation better established, none more generally confirmed by the experience of the best physicians of all ages and countries, and none of more importance to the practitioner than the fact that many of the most difficult and incurable complaints originate in neglected COLDS. In a climate as variable as ours, where the changes of the weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this subtle and dangerous enemy of life, than most people imagine, or are willing to bestow. Hence the vast number of patients afflicted with coughs, catarrhs, asthmas and consumptions. The many cases of the kind which fell under my observation, the disappointment I experienced in practice, from remedies highly recommended, and my own pre-disposition to pulmonary complaints, were strong inducements for me to consider whether a compound, consisting of mild vegetable substances could not be invented, more free from the well-founded objections of practitioners, and better calculated to avert the threatening destruction of the lungs.

I have the satisfaction to offer to the public such a remedy, under the name of the VEGETABLE PULMONIC DETURGENT, well adapted to various constitutions and habits, and to declare with the fullest confidence that I found this composition far superior to others intended to answer the same purpose. I am perfectly satisfied, that practitioners, who have frequently to combat the effects of suppressed perspiration and do not neglect the use of the lancet and other evacuations, whenever they are indicated, will place this medicine on the list of their most favorite remedies; as it can in no case do harm. I will abide by this motto:

NO RELIEF NO PAY.

This motto may be deemed ostentatious by some, and amounting to a positiveness that the medicine will invariably effect a cure in any stage of a disease like a miracle; the proprietor is far from believing that this medicine will render mankind immortal; but he is fully sensible if taken seasonably, and according to the directions, it will either prevent or cure, and if unseasonably, it will most sensibly alleviate distress and prolong life; and having no desire to profit by the confidence of the sick and afflicted, induces me to make the above overture. Should the contrary appear in any instance, as in some it possibly may, the money for the medicine will be cheerfully refunded by the person who may vend the same.

GEORGE ROGERS.

N. B. The above named medicine is secured to the subscriber by letters patent from the President of the United States, and prepared at his Dispensary in Northampton county of Hampshire and state of Massachusetts.

To the Public.

The great benefit which I have experienced from Rogers's Vegetable, &c. and a firm persuasion that it may afford relief to others, induces me to make every laudable exertion for its distribution.

For five years preceding the last of Dec. 1807, in consequence of taking a violent cold I had been afflicted with the asthma, a disorder which I conceived to be hereditary, my father and grandfather both having greatly suffered from it. The disorder increasing rapidly upon me, in the spring of 1807, I consulted Dr. C. L. Seeger, but the urgency of his business prevented him from attending at that time, particularly to my case. My business made it necessary for me to leave home and be absent the greater part of summer, which deprived me of the able professional assistance of Dr. Seeger. In September last, a severe cold brought on a violent cough and the disorder assumed an aspect more serious and alarming than at any former period—I was extremely debilitated, emaciated and confined. Such was the irritability of my lungs I was obliged to use the greatest caution in the act of respiration. After a free use of Rogers's Vegetable, &c. for about two months I was perfectly relieved of the dreadful cough which had so long afflicted me, and completely cured of every symptom of the asthma. In short, blessed be God, I have continued in sound health ever since. As these facts may be important to those unfortunate individuals who are suffering from the same disorder, I have been thus particular in their detail. And I do not hesitate to declare my solemn conviction, both from my own experience and observing its effects on others, that Dr. Rogers's V. P. D. is an easy, safe and effectual remedy for coughs and asthmas, and is the greatest antidote to all pulmonary complaints that the world has ever witnessed.

Jacob W. Brewster.

Northampton, January, 1809.

THIS may certify, that about the first of October last, I was attacked with a violent cough, which proceeded, as was the opinion of my physician, who is a man well approved of in his profession, from a bruise which I received on my left side about a fortnight before. By his consent I tried Rogers's Pulmonic Deturgent—I was very weak and low, and took but half the quantity prescribed by his directions. In three days I was much relieved, and in eight days quite cured of the cough.

Moses Parsons, jun.

Northampton, February, 1809.

Northampton, (Mass.) Feb. 1809.

I James Heaton, also hereby certify, that in the fall of the year 1808, I was seized with a severe cold attended by an obstinate and distressing cough. The violence of my cough soon produced a pain in my side and breast, and frequently spitting of blood, in short, all the horrid symptoms of a consumption were rapidly assailing me. In this situation I was recommended to Dr. George Rogers, who rendered me immediate relief by administering his Vegetable Deturgent. I have continued the use of it ever since, and for three months past, though not completely restored to health, I have been able constantly to attend to my business—and I fully believe that my partial restoration has been solely owing (under God) to this valuable medicine.

James Heaton.

To the Public.

In consequence of taking a severe cold in May, 1808, I was seized with a violent pain in my side, attended with a distressing cough, which, although I had the advice and prescriptions of a respectable physician lasted me four weeks, without any alleviation. I then applied to Dr. George Rogers, who administered his Vegetable Pulmonic Deturgent, which gave me immediate relief; and in ten days I was entirely freed from the pain in my side and cough.

Charles Chapman.

Northampton, March, 1809.

I. ELIJAH NORTON, jun. of Westampton, in Massachusetts, do certify, that in the last year I was attended with a great debility, weakness of the lungs, distressed for breath, and a violent cough, attended with a fever for a number of months; about the 15th of August I began the use of Dr. George Rogers's Vegetable Pulmonic Deturgent. I kept in the use of it about three months. Immediately after taking this medicine my cough abated, and I could breathe with more freedom. I would recommend the medicine from my own experience, to those who are troubled with a cough, and disorders of the lungs and breast, and consumptive complaints, and do believe it to be a valuable and useful medicine.

Finkerton's Collection of Voyages and Travels,

Forming a complete History of the Origin and Progress of Discovery by Sea and Land, from the most authentic Sources.

THE first number of this valuable Work is just come to hand and is ready for inspection at the store of the subscriber, in King-street, and with Mr. Triplett, at the coffee-house.

Fully aware of the impositions that have been practised upon the public by strangers soliciting subscriptions from distant places; the Editors invite their examination of a Work perhaps the most useful, entertaining as well as extensive in its kind that has ever been undertaken in any country. And they flatter themselves that the American will by no means shrink from a comparison with the London edition, tho' offered at six dollars per Vol. less.

This number may be considered as a fair specimen of the execution of the work, and will be left a short time for examination, before the 2d number is put to press. After this the subscription will be raised to $2 25 each number; and but a few more copies printed than are sufficient to supply the subscribers, that the early patrons of this valuable Work may have a decided advantage—subsequent applications may therefore come too late.

It is also the intention of the Editors to annex to the last number a complete list of the names of the subscribers, as the patrons and encouragers of useful knowledge, the arts and literature of the United States.

Subscriptions are received by the subscriber.

FOR SALE,

A TRACT OF LAND,

CONTAINING 1270 acres, more or less, called and known by the name of the Marsh, lying on the 12 miles of Water betwixt the county of Frederick and Prince Georges, in the county of Frederick, in the State of Virginia. Containing 9.0 acres of water, there are several very well improved, for tenants for life or lives, the balance for all incumbrances, including an excellent mill built with stone, the whole yielding an annual rent of about 800 dollars. Most of this tract is very fertile, well watered, and all abundance of timber. It is generally lying, but part of it is hilly and stony, chiefly of lime stone. It will be laid off to suit purchasers.

Another tract, called Hollis Marsh, lying in the county of Westmoreland, containing about 2800 acres, bordering on the river Potomac, adjoining the Stratford estate, and the late residence of Richard Lee, esq. of Chantilly. On the estate are a number of farms and tenants at will. Part of this tract is extremely fertile, and all of it as good as the lands generally are in that part of the country. The Marsh affords excellent range for stock, and is happily situated for fish and fowls of which that river abounds, and may be a desirable estate to any person who may choose to reside in that part of the country. It will however be laid off to suit purchasers.

The above lands are held by deeds of purchase duly recorded in the general court.

Another tract containing 992 acres, lying in the county of Berkeley, adjoining the residence of Rawleigh Colston, esq. of which about 660 acres is leased for the balance of the life of an aged man, the remainder at will. This land is situated in what is called the big bend of Potomac, and borders on it. In point of fertility it is esteemed inferior to none in that part of the state and is held by deed from James Marshall, esq.

Seven other tracts containing 1000 acres each, adjoining each other in the county of Mason, within a few miles of the Ohio, between the two Kanawha's on the waters of Sandy Creek, which runs through a considerable part of it. It adjoins the lands of general Washington, and the late Benjamin Harrison, jun. esq. A large portion of it is rich bottom and the upland of very good quality. It is held under the original patent by deeds duly recorded in the general court.

Five full & complete Shares in the Dismal Swamp Company.

Upwards of 16,000 acres of Lands, being very old military rights, lying in the states of Ohio, Kentucky and the Indiana territory, chiefly patented in my own name and ready to be shewn.

A more particular description of the foregoing property may be seen by applying to Mr. Thomas Taylor, of Richmond, who is authorized to make contracts, or to myself in Alexandria. The titles are all undoubted, and the terms proposed are, one fourth in cash at the time of conveyance, the balance in three instalments, the last two to be on interest from the date. Any species of the public stock and of the different Banks in the United States of Insurance Companies—of the Potomac Bridge and Turnpike Companies will be received in payment according to their fair value. Ground rents in the city of Richmond and town of Alexandria, or Houses and Lots, will likewise be received in payment according to such rates as may be agreed upon.
